1. HUB login

The screenshot shows the login interface for the PressReader Hub SelfPublishing System. The header is black with the text "press reader hub" in white and green, and "SelfPublishing™ System" in white. Below the header is a white box with a grey border containing the "Sign In" form. The form includes a "Sign In" heading, a prompt to enter username and password, and a section for "Account Information". The "User name" field contains "library@pressreader.com" and the "Password" field is masked with dots. There is a "Remember me?" checkbox and a "Forgot password?" link. A green "Sign In" button is at the bottom.
