Introducing the Collection

The Treaty of Waitangi Collection brings together leading thinking on this foundational document, including works by acclaimed scholars such as Claudia Orange, Judith Binney, Vincent O'Malley, Alan Ward and Aroha Harris. Designed and managed by award-winning New Zealand publisher Bridget Williams Books, the Collection is a living resource backed by a long-term vision for Treaty scholarship into the twenty-first century.

Key features

- » Award-winning scholarship brought together for the first time - this is a landmark digital resource for New Zealand.
- » Built on decades of acclaimed publishing on the Treaty and actively managed by BWB's editorial team, with new books and platform features to be added over time.
- » Optimised for mobile devices - reflecting the needs of today's students and researchers - and viewable instantly using any modern web browser.
- » A high-quality educational environment featuring hyperlinked referencing using CrossRef, permanent web links using Perma.cc, automatic citations using RefMe, cross-title full text search, high-resolution illustrations, and the integration of biographies from the Dictionary of New Zealand Biography.
- » View multiple books at once and keep them all open even when you've left the Collection - it works with your workflow.
- » Straightforward multi-seat access for subscribing institutions using simple and intuitive access control. Powerful and regular analytics down to a chapter-by-chapter level.
- » Importantly, previously out-of-print works from wider New Zealand publishing will be added to the Collection over time, as shown by the inclusion on launch of Peter Adams's Fatal Necessity. Subscribers to the Collection will, in this way, be supporting the long-term retention and digitisation of out-of-print books critical to Treaty scholarship and New Zealand.

The Collection book list

A subscription gives users unlimited access to all books in the Collection. These books include award-winning histories such as Claudia Orange's acclaimed Treaty of Waitangi series and the landmark resource Tangata Whenua: A History by Atholl Anderson, Judith Binney and Aroha Harris. As a resource actively managed by BWB's editorial team, the Collection will grow over time with the addition of new works from our publishing and beyond.

An Illustrated History of the Treaty of Waitangi

Claudia Orange

The history of the Treaty comes to life with a wonderful range of photographs, maps and paintings. A companion volume to The Treaty of Waitangi, the accessible text is written for the general reader.

An Unsettled History: Treaty Claims in New Zealand Today

Alan Ward

The history behind the claims arising from the Treaty of Waitangi. Ward's account reveals a Treaty made and then repeatedly breached. The impact of the past upon the present has rarely been analysed to such immediate purpose.

Beyond the Imperial Frontier: The Contest for Colonial New Zealand

Vincent O'Malley

An exploration of the different ways Māori and Pākehā 'fronted' one another across the nineteenth century.

Fatal Necessity: British Intervention in New Zealand, 1830-1847

Peter Adams

Fatal Necessity, now re-issued as an ebook, is a detailed examination of the circumstances leading to British intervention and hence to the Treaty of Waitangi.

First Contact: Tasman's Arrival in Taitapu, 1642

Anne Salmond

An account of the dramatic visit of Dutch ships led by Abel Tasman to Golden Bay at the top of the South Island in 1642, and the meeting of Māori and European worlds.

New Myths and Old Politics: The Waitangi Tribunal and the Challenge of Tradition

Tipene O'Regan

Ngāi Tahu leader Sir Tipene O'Regan reflects on what happens in Treaty settlement negotiations behind the scenes, and clashes between current ideologies and Māori identity.

The Story of a Treaty

Claudia Orange

In this short and lively history, the story of the Treaty of Waitangi comes right up to the present. Generously illustrated, this popular book won the Best Book in Secondary Publishing at the 2013 CLNZ Educational Publishing Awards.

Tangata Whenua: A History

Atholl Anderson, Judith Binney and Aroha Harris

This landmark publication places Māori at the centre of this country's story. It portrays the sweep of Māori history from Pacific origins to the present. This text-only edition of the Illustrated History offers a striking overview, grounded in specific localities and histories.

The Treaty of Waitangi

Claudia Orange

This comprehensive study is the standard work on the Treaty. The book looks at the place of the Treaty in New Zealand history from its making in the early nineteenth century through to the renewed engagement of the present time.

Treaty of Waitangi Settlements

Nicola R. Wheen and Janine Hayward (eds)

Settlement of iwi claims has been a feature of New Zealand's political and legal landscape over the last thirty years, drawing international attention. A timely discussion by leading scholars.

The Waitangi Tribunal: Te Roopu Whakamana i te Tiriti o Waitangi

Janine Hayward and Nicola R. Wheen (eds)

The Waitangi Tribunal was established in 1975 to hear claims by Māori against the Crown arising under the Treaty. This book brings together the work of leading historians, lawyers and analysts to review the Tribunal's place.

What Happened at Waitangi?

Claudia Orange

Who said what to whom when the Treaty was negotiated – and what lay behind subsequent misunderstandings about its wording?
